

1.125 – Software Engineering and Architecting

Lectures 9-10
Cloud Computing

The Cloud – New or Old?

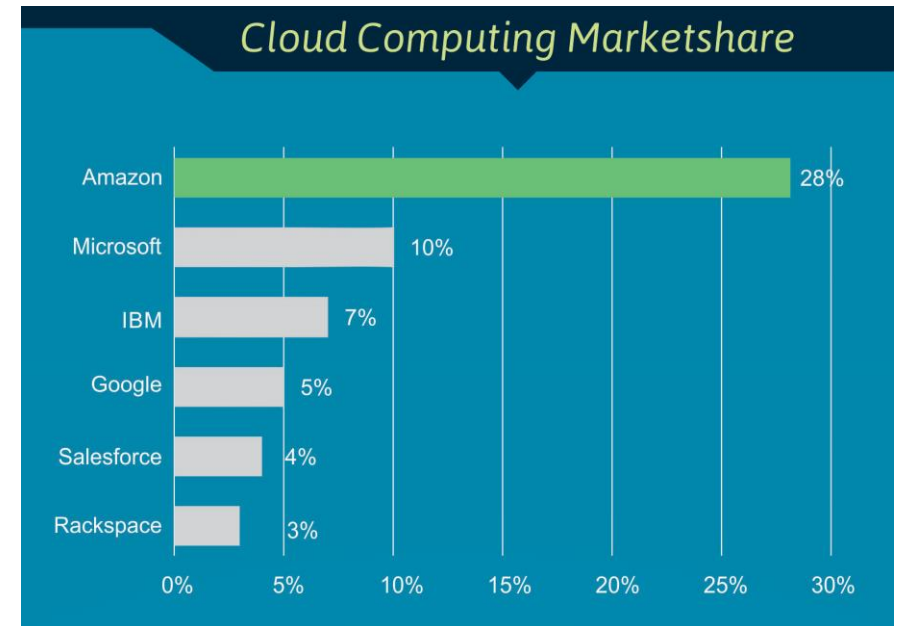

The Cloud – Everything as a Service

Modern cloud computing really refers to the use of services that are using the internet to leverage the costs away from in-house development

AWS – The King of Cloud

Amazon started building the “Operating system of the internet” after they had started building infrastructure for others and realized there was an unmet need for this kind of cloud platform.
